DOLORES OTTING

OCCUPATION: Businesswoman

Dolores Otting, a 15-year resident of Newport Beach, is a former Teacher and Businesswoman. As a business owner she interacted with many cities in Orange County negotiating contracts and proposals. Her business expertise will be an invaluable asset on the Council as our City strives to maintain a balanced budget during the next four years.

Dolores strongly believes in a transparent government wherein the business of the Public is conducted in public - of the People, by the People, and for the People. It is with this dedication that she has attended Council Meetings for 14 years questioning critical issues to ensure the residents hear both sides of the Agenda items.

Dolores is a volunteer Ombudsman with the Council on Aging advocating for the rights of the Elderly and implementing Mediation. She also serves as a contributing member of EQAC (Environmental Quality Affairs Committee) for the City of Newport Beach.

She owes no special interests and is dedicated to serving the will and desires of our residents. She is a proponent of small business and property rights. She will bring a new, vital perspective to the Council that will enhance our Premier City. Vote Dolores Otting - a different point of view!
